What can you get from Energy from Waste 2015?

Comprehensive, challenging and authoritative, the Energy from Waste conference is the industry's foremost event, providing a uniquely focused and positive environment for information exchange and business growth at a very senior-level, across all parts of the industry.

Now in its eleventh year, the Energy from Waste conference brought together well over 200 attendees from 20 countries in 2014, and its international reach continues to grow.

Attracting company CEOs, MDs and Directors, technical experts and senior-level government figures, the Energy from Waste conference enables a unique level of discussion and business development with the people who are driving forward change and growth in the waste to energy sector, in the UK and internationally.

Key programme elements:

- Facilitated networking sessions for C & I merchant projects and RDF / SRF producers, with input and involvement from UKGIB
- RDF / SRF session with speakers from Defra, EA, Germany, Sweden and the Netherlands
- Solutions-orientated workshop session for heat network delivery
- Optimising operational efficiency stream, sponsored by Hitachi Zosen Inova
- Smart city development and the integration of waste to energy – presentations and discussion
- Key overseas market focus sessions with discussion and networking
- The move to a circular economy – what is needed to encourage change, and the role of energy from waste

- Technology updates and the opportunities for waste to energy in the decarbonisation of energy intensive industry
- Local authority financing and ESCO development – presentations, case studies and interactive discussion

Extra features:

- Pre-event site visit to Ardley Energy Recovery Facility.
- Start of day networking sessions
- End of day 1 drinks reception, sponsored by Valmet
- The Energy from Waste conference dinner - a highly popular and enjoyable way to network with fellow attendees.
